

U.S. Geological Survey

11th ANNUAL PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE

Saturday, November 7, 2009 - 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Special section with free resources for educators

“Understanding Climate” is the theme for the 2009 Open House. Hands-on exhibit topics include climate change, sea-level rise, coral reefs, hurricanes, ecosystems, native and invasive wildlife, and much more. Climate plays an important role in many earth processes. Learn how scientists measure, monitor, and observe the earth around us. Come visit the USGS and explore our ever-changing planet.

Look for details at:

<http://coastal.er.usgs.gov/openhouse/>

For more information please call:

(727) 803-8747

Fun for all ages!

★ Limited free parking available in USF Lot 17 across from USGS main entrance